Opus Orbis is a platform that facilitates the booking of workspaces directly from local businesses. This service is designed to accommodate various rental durations, from hourly to daily and monthly, offering flexibility in the type and amount of workspace you can book.

The platform is positioned as a solution for remote teams, meetups, and hybrid businesses. It empowers remote teams, providing them with the ability to work from anywhere and have instant access to not only workspaces, but also fitness and wellness spaces. This is touted as a new superpower for remote teams.

For individuals, Opus Orbis can help remote workers build their network while working in local businesses' offices. Hybrid workers are given the flexibility to work from wherever it suits them, with a pay-as-you-go system. For businesses, the platform allows instant access to spaces all around the world, facilitating global operations.

The types of spaces offered by Opus Orbis are diverse. They range from desks to offices, meeting rooms, and event venues, accommodating various business needs. The platform promises to meet whatever workspace need you might have.

Opus Orbis is also proactive in expanding its locations. New locations are added every week, and as of the time of this data, they have spaces available in cities like Miami and Buenos Aires.

Additionally, Opus Orbis provides an opportunity for businesses to monetize their unused workspaces. They can list their empty workspaces on the platform for free and potentially earn passive income.

Another key feature of Opus Orbis is its commitment to transparency. The platform provides clear reports that help manage remote teams more effectively. These reports give insights into usage patterns by employees and the type of space they're reserving, allowing employers to understand what spaces make their teams productive and happy.

Setting up an account with Opus Orbis is a three-step process. First, businesses complete a form to generate their profile on the platform. Next, they provide additional details about their team, such as the number of employees, their locations, and space priority. Lastly, businesses can earn money by listing their own unused spaces, with automatic direct deposit payments at the end of each month.

Opus Orbis is free to try, and businesses only pay for what their team uses. With solutions for remote teams, meetups, and hybrid businesses, it offers various types of spaces including desks, offices, meeting rooms, and event venues. The platform also provides support through its referral program, and allows users to learn more about the company, or get help through its Contact Us and Help Center options.

If you're looking for a space of your own, we also have you covered. You can search through thousands of spaces on our platform and book according to your terms. From desks and offices to meeting rooms and event venues, we offer a range of spaces to suit your business needs.

Opus Orbis is a platform that empowers property owners to profit from their unused workspaces by connecting them with a network of vetted professionals and businesses seeking flexible workspace options. With our platform, you can transform your idle office spaces into a source of income and join the ranks of thousands of other space owners worldwide.

You have the freedom to rent out your workspace as you see fit - hourly, daily, or monthly. Whether you have an available desk, an office, a meeting room, or a venue, Opus Orbis helps you make the most out of it.

Getting started is straightforward. You'll need to provide your contact details and answer a few basic questions about your office space. For every reservation you make, we'll send you a confirmation email with all the necessary details of the guest. The payments are automatically deposited directly into your account soon after the guest checks in.

We aim to make your experience as smooth as possible by handling all aspects from the start, including payments and invoicing. You have total control over the availability of your spaces, the rental prices, cancellation policies, and the rules you set. Your success is our priority, and we ensure you receive your payments promptly and safely.

Opus Orbis provides 24/7 support to ensure your success and safety on our platform. We only connect you with vetted professionals and businesses, ensuring your spaces are rented by reliable and reputable guests.

And what's more, it's absolutely free to list, rent, and manage your workspaces through Opus Orbis. We only collect a flat service fee from guests when they book.

So, if you have unused workspace and would like to earn extra income while maintaining total flexibility, Opus Orbis is the perfect fit for you. We're here to answer any questions and assist you in the process of listing your space. Together, we can put your spaces to work.
